Studio ROOF proves there is no stopping what can be accomplished with paper. Their Totem assemblages (a horse is featured here) are made from recycled cardboard. The equine construction is comprised of 32 interlocking pieces.

Roger la Borde journals are lovely to look at and delightful to use. They feature 192 blank pages, an elastic binder, and measure 6 by 8.25 inches. Cover choices are sure to appeal to all the customers who frequent your shop. (www.rogerlaborde.com)

For more than 35 years, Up With Paper has been astounding and delighting customers the world over. Billing itself as "the original pop-up greeting card company," the firm has been making three-dimensional stationery products since 1978. If their designers can dream it, they can construct it.
